Learning outcomes - how did the trip/visit meet the curriculum objectives.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• To learn about historical events/ artefacts</li> <li>• To be able to see first-hand historical artefacts</li> <li>• To travel via train to the capital city, London</li> <li>• To learn to navigate the city of London and the people, as we walk from King's Cross to the British Museum</li> <li>• To consolidate learning about Ancient Egypt and Ancient Greece with a teacher led tour</li> <li>• To access the British Museum, gaining new knowledge about our historical topics, engaging our inner historian.</li> <li>• To widen our learning to other aspects of history by viewing other exhibits during our visit.</li> </ul>
Did the children enjoy the trip? (Quotes of what they enjoyed children if appropriate)	"I loved going on the train and playing games on the way to London." Amelia "I loved seeing the Egyptian section and the Rosetta Stone." James "There were so many mummies, including cats, crocodiles and humans. It was so cool!" Charlie

	"London was so busy, but it was good to see some of the streets and play outside too. The museum was amazing. I had such a good day." Lizzie "I loved seeing all of the exhibits and learning new things - the Ancient Egypt stuff was really good." Abigail
Cost of the trip / cost paid by parents.	£11.00 which included travel via train to London.
Worth the cost?	Yes.
Would the trip/visit be repeated?	Yes, the children gained so much from the British Museum trip and it helped to support their learning about Ancient Egypt and Ancient Greece. It also enabled them to visit the capital, which many had never experienced.
